

Remote Work & Employee Benefits Guide

Document Ref: KB-HR-2026-03 | Page 1 of 2

1. Global Remote Work Policy & Eligibility

KnowledgeBridge supports a remote-first, globally distributed workforce.

Full-time team members are eligible to work from any country where the company maintains legal corporate entities or approved employer-of-record (EOR) partnerships.

Employees are required to maintain a secure, private home office environment capable of conducting confidential client and architectural discussions.

2. Home Office Equipment Stipend & Tech Refresh

Upon onboarding, full-time employees receive a one-time home office setup stipend of ,500 USD to procure ergonomic chairs, desks, and peripheral monitors.

Standard corporate hardware includes an Apple MacBook Pro (M-series, 32GB RAM) or Dell XPS Developer Edition, with automated hardware refresh eligibility every 36 months.

3. Comprehensive Health, Wellness & Parental Benefits

The company provides 100% employer-sponsored health, dental, and vision insurance premiums for employees and 80% coverage for eligible dependents.

New parents are granted 16 weeks of fully paid parental leave, applicable to birth, adoption, or foster placement, accessible within the first 12 months following the event.

Remote Work & Employee Benefits Guide

Document Ref: KB-HR-2026-03 | Page 2 of 2

4. Professional Development & Learning Stipend

To encourage continuous technical excellence, every team member is allocated an annual professional development budget of ,500 USD. Approved expenses include technical certifications (AWS, GCP, n8n, LangChain), academic courses, and industry conference travel.

5. Security, Zero-Trust Access & Device Compliance

Remote laptops must be enrolled in corporate MDM (Mobile Device Management) with full-disk encryption (FileVault / BitLocker) enabled.

Access to production orchestrators, cloud consoles, and database credentials mandates hardware security key MFA (FIDO2 / YubiKey) and Zero-Trust Network Access (ZTNA) authentication.